

January 16th: Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Day

On this day we celebrate the racial equality and nonviolent principles that Dr. King advocated. Let's celebrate the legacy and life of this prolific civil rights leader.

How to celebrate MLK Day of Service in Memphis:

1. Volunteer your time
2. Visit the MLK Reflection Park located at (Second St. and MLK Blvd)
3. Visit the National Civil Rights Museum
4. Attend the Memphis Grizzlies Game on Monday, January 17th.

Programming will commemorate MLK Day.

Happy Birthday to everybody born in January!

January 22: Chinese New Year

In East Asian countries, this festival is revered and is the most important festival in China. The Chinese New Year celebration is a time to honor the ancestors and deities. This is also a time in which families come together to celebrate and feast with one another.

Did you know that each year there is an animal sign associated with the Chinese zodiac cycle?

The 2023 Chinese animal is the Water Rabbit. The rabbit symbolizes peace, prosperity, and longevity in Chinese culture.
